TikTok has overhauled its hate speech rules, banning users from calling the IDF "terrorists" and narrowing its policy on supremacy from covering "all racial supremacy" to only "White supremacy."

The shift came just 15 days after the company hired Erica Mindel, a former IDF instructor and self-described "proud Zionist," as its Public Policy Manager for Hate Speech.

groups, such as the Holocaust or the genocide against the Tutsi in Rwanda

- Dehumanizing people, including by comparing them to animals or objects
- Portraying protected groups as inherently dangerous, such as calling them criminals or terrorists
- Blaming an entire group for actions committed by one person within that group
- Attributing illness or disease to a protected group, including describing them as contagious
- Claiming that a protected group is physically or mentally inferior to others

Protected attributes mean personal characteristics that you are either born with, are immutable, or it would cause severe psychological harm if you were forced to change them or were attacked because of them. This includes:

- Caste
- Ethnicity
- National Origin
- Race

Promoting any hateful ideology, including:

- Claiming supremacy over a protected group, such as racial supremacy, misogyny, anti-LGBTQ+, antisemitism, or Islamophobia

Supporting or spreading hateful ideologies, including:

- Claims of supremacy over a protected group, such as white supremacy, misogyny, anti-LGBTQ+ hate, antisemitism, or Islamophobia company's positions on hate speech, according to her job description.

Social media juggernaut TikTok has hired a "proud American Jew" as its hate speech manager with a special focus on antisemitism.

Erica Mindel joined the platform in July in the full time, New York City based role, with an estimated salary of £280k per year.

It's not just TikTok, the ADL runs X's moderation policies. The Talmud cult has been cracking down on any criticism of their tribe.

Funny how politicians in DC can't agree on fixing healthcare, housing, or endless debt but the second Israel's image takes a hit, suddenly they're a bipartisan dream team.

Censorship dressed up as 'fighting antisemitism' or 'stopping hate' is just code for silencing dissent 🙄
