What's funny is that the left image resembles Asia and the right image resembles rural America.

You forgot where the 1st world comes to the 3rd world builds infrastructure then leaves and the 3rd world lets it fall into disrepair

First world should have stopped at .27. Having empty skyscrapers and drones does not a cohesive society make.

The folks living in their cages on the 30th floor (left image) would pay 6 months salary for a trip to the image on the right and live line that for a while.

Well played. Come to think of it, what if the difference is actually as a result of an experiment that is being carried out by an advanced civilisation to see what happens if a group focuses on science and progress and the other on mystical acts and just staying the same

I wish I got to see the next stage of the first world, but the third world is nearly done killing it. Sad. I'm sure the Dark Ages Part 2 will be fun tho

This is half the truth tho. People from the 3rd world and their resources were stolen by force and used in building the 1st world.

2nd World is better than both. Warsaw Pact and it's allies are counted as 2nd world in Cold War dictionary.

Yes, accurate although you'll likely never see the last bit of development because the Christian Zionists are hellbent on destroying your society, likely at the behest of the Jews, and inevitably using Islam, just as they are doing here in Europe. Enjoy your Caliphate.

Egypt, Iraq, India are third world even though the first three civilisations developed there.

1st World, 3rd World and all these concepts developed during the cold war.

Compare N. Korea to S. Korea.

Recent developments is resulted from recent decisions, unrelated to history.

I really doesn't want to say it, but I have to, we really have 3rd World countries AS members of the EU 🙄 Look at those countries, they haven't developed anything, they have maximum 3 or 4 big companies in the whole country.
