Hello @ElonMusk. This is how you are perceived. Not too late to course correct but it's getting pretty late. You certainly have the extra money on hand to really help the people of the world instead of the hellbent road of chaos and destruction you are ludicrously barreling down. Put down the Ket straw. 🤔 should be. Not his responsibility to take care of you or anyone else. Go sit in your corner chair and watch your husband get pegged.

Only simple-minded people see this. Elon owns very few luxuries compared to most wealthy individuals..and made his fortune benefiting humanity. Continually provides free Starlink during disasters, pays more in taxes than anyone, and gives more in charity than you are worth. He's a maker. What valuable goods or services do you contribute to society? Would the world be any worse off if you stopped making movies?

BFD, you were in a few Marvel movies; your actual screen time....you, not the Hulk CGI bullshit...is 54 minutes across all four of the five major film appearances, and you were paid somewhere in the neighborhood of 50 million dollars.

Tell me again how that's okay, but @elonmusk actually creating technology to help humanity shouldn't bring him monetary reward?
