I've seen this clip a while ago. Someone intentionally blurred the footage because the guys head gets directly ran over.

I would give it 10/10 if the truck had then crashed into a train, that then crashed into a river, where the Indians started drowning before electrical wires fell into the water, electrocuting them instead.

That would be peak India.

Rajasthan: Cow, hit by Vande Bharat train, falls on man peeing on tracks, kills him

A cow was hit by a speeding Vande Bharat train in Rajasthan's Alwar. Parts of the cow fell on a man relieving himself on the track 30 metres away, killing him.

To get the high score, it needs some shallow water, a long stick, a train and electric cables.

It is Indian but just not Indian enough to be called the greatest. It lacks a sneak attack from a train, electricity, heavy equipment, elephants, leopards or motorcycles. Somewhere out there eon the www is the complete and greatest Indian death video.
