Imagine going to the library to study or just enjoy some quiet reading time when suddenly a woman starts banging her mouse. She's so disruptive that the staff calls the police and asks her to leave. She refuses, so they tell her she's now trespassing. You have to be pretty foolish to get banned from a library. Where does that sense of entitlement come from? This crap gets old.

Here's How To Get A Lifetime Ban From The Library

"How would I go to jail? I didn't commit any crimes." Cop gave her like 7 chances and clearly explained she wasn't going to jail as long as she left.

I'm so sick of these videos where the cops keep saying, "I'll give you one more chance, then your going to jail," and there 10 more chances given. FFS, 3 refusals and take them down. It's not rocket science.
