This is the EXTREMELY civil discussion that the riot at Tennessee State (HBCU) started with.

In this video you watch the mob grow, begin shouting, destroying our stuff, possessing weapons, blocking our way out, and screaming racist epithets.

All because of this civil convo.

Start calling it what it is.

This is what racism and fascism really look like.

But it's not coming from where the media portrays it from.

Sadly, every one of them will probably never make it in the world with an attitude like that and just solidify the exact point that the left are the actual racist and fascist once again.

Start speaking up America. It's now or never.

I posted this question yesterday with just a partial video clip of the mob. So I ask again.

{Employers pay attention to the TP video are the, "students conducting themselves in a professional and respectful manner." Then ask yourself, would you hire one of these students?}

Campus police and staff responded promptly, and the individuals were escorted from university grounds without incident. At all times, TSU students conducted themselves in a professional and respectful manner.

Props to the original young man who was actually participating in an exchange of thoughts with you guys.

Too bad there are so many other complete degenerates that are ok with creating chaos with whatever means are at their disposal.

You can't have a civil discussion with uncivilized people.

Too many blacks and leftists are immediately willfully or ignorantly accusing you guys of inciting the unjust hatred brought against you.

Proves they are the side of violence/hatred and not of inclusion, love or discussion.

It is sad and frustrating to see. They have been programmed (intentionally) to feel as if they are victims. And this might be young black folks in this specific instance but it happens ALL over the country at universities to all the students who are willing.
