JP 🇯🇵 🇯🇵 This is insane. @elonmusk

Japanese government just announced they're going to start doxxing people for posting things the government doesn't like— what they think is “misinformation” and “malicious slander.”

They declared war on free speech.

It doesn't matter if you're right or wrong, if the government decides it's “misinformation,” you're getting doxxed.

For Japanese nationalists and patriots, this is particularly dangerous. Any criticism of immigration policies, globalist agendas, or woke cultural imports will immediately be labeled as “hate speech” or “misinformation.”

〔Regarding Misinformation and Defamation on SNS〕

A free and healthy discourse space where people can exchange opinions with peace of mind is necessary to protect democracy. The Liberal Democratic Party will appropriately respond to accounts that repeatedly post false or misinformation and malicious defamation on SNS and the like, based on facts, including legal measures such as disclosure requests as necessary.

〔SNSにおける誤情報・誹謗中傷について〕

安心して意見を交わせる自由で健全な言論空間は民主主義を守るために必要です。自民党はSNS等における偽・誤情報の投稿や悪質な誹謗中傷を繰り返すアカウントに対しては、事実に基づき、必要に応じて開示請求といった法的措置を含む対応を適切に行ってまいります。

Deeply worrying that the Ishiba government is following exactly the same globalist playbook as Canada, the UK and Australia. Japan used to be a haven of good sense. By censoring, they admit they are wrong, because they can't defend their position.

Americans stand with Japan.

The Japanese should be safe in Japan, not just from inbred foreigners, but also the globalist who have undemocratically and deceptively taken over the Japanese government.

You must maintain free speech.

That is one of the main differences between International Communist Organized Crime and those that are conserving cultural and/or national interests.

There are rules that must be observed if society's institutions are to be trusted.

Communism's purpose is to destroy that trust, and dissolve cultures and nations, so that the entire world can be tyrannized, and ruled despotically from Jerusalem.
