A few months ago, I dug into Cea Weaver's Twitter history because she was Mamdani's housing advisor.

I had a hunch she might get a position on his team.

Well, she did, and she deleted her X account, accordingly.

However, I took some screenshots. Let's dig in.

For context, this woman was just selected by Mayor Mamdani to be the Director of the newly revitalized Mayor’s Office to Protect Tenants.

According to NYC.gov - "The revitalized Office to Protect Tenants will serve as a central coordinating body to defend tenants’ rights, stand up to landlords, and ensure city agencies act swiftly on behalf of renters facing unsafe or illegal conditions."

Okay - so what are her beliefs?

1. "Public housing for everyone."
2. "Rent control and public housing for everyone"
3. "Massive government interventions to solve gentrification"

What else?

She believes:

"rent control is a perfect solution to everything"

and rent control is "a more effective way to shrink the value of real estate than reducing rezoning applications"

Just in case you missed that -

Yes, she wants to SHRINK THE VALUE OF REAL ESTATE

Private property including and kind of ESPECIALLY homeownership is a weapon of white supremacy masquerading as "wealth building" public policy

Cea Weaver @ceaweaver · Jul 9, 2018

Gentrification narratives are pretty tired and not helpful anymore. Gentrification is caused by rent-seeking developers/landlords and policy makers that enable them. It's part of a centuries long process of white supremacy in the housing/land market.

In addition to disliking (hating?) white people - she is a passionate Socialist...!

"we can and should raise expectations that we all live in green, beautiful, public housing"

"not convinced that stopping development... builds our movement or advances socialism like rent control does"

Cea Weaver @ceaweaver · Dec 11, 2021
Hi! I think we can and should raise expectations that we all live in green, beautiful, public housing - but that doesn't mean necessarily the section 9 housing act of 1937 (as someone who has been fighting hard to mobilize for more fed sec 9 money)

Cea Weaver @ceaweaver

Cea Weaver and her boss, Mayor Mamdani, apparently see eye to eye on many things...

Apparently, they both want to "move away from a situation where most people access housing by purchasing it and towards a situation where the state guarantees high-quality housing to all."

Cea Weaver reposted

Zohran Kwame Mamdani @Z... · 12/3/20

People often ask what socialists mean when we say we want to "decommodify" housing.

Basically, we want to move away from a situation where most people access housing by purchasing it on the market & toward a situation where the state guarantees high-quality housing to all. (1/8)

Questions top of mind:

1) Does she work effectively with white people, despite her views about them?

2) Does she see homeownership as having any validity in building wealth?

3) Does she really hope we all live in gov housing?

4) Thoughts on the constitution?

Wow. If I follow all this correctly she wants to shrink property values, thinks rent control is perfect, openly fantasizes about white people "burning," and wishes they'd stop reproducing.

Cea's real name is Celia.

Her father lives in Rochester, NY in a home valued at ~$724,000.
Her mom lives in Nashville, TN in a home valued at ~$2.8 million.

The parents didn't get the memo that home ownership is bad.
