Shut the fuck up Dinesh. Unprovoked, your response to my family and I being doxxed, threatened, and harassed by Indian nationalists infuriated by my documentation of a poop-throwing festival was NOT sympathy as a fellow American.

NOPE. You posted a screenshot of median household income of Asian households earning more than white American households??? Who the fuck does that. It gives the impression that all you see is GDP.

If you believed in colorblind American solidarity, then why is your first instinct to defend anonymous Indians threatening to rape my imaginary sister and mother with a screenshot of household income stats among ethnic groups in America?

Why are identity politics convenient for you, but not for anyone else? Are you Indian? Indian-American? American? Is America simply an economic exploitation zone, ripe for blundering? Are you loyal to America first and foremost?

Why would you instinctively relate and defend a rural village of Indians throwing cow poop at one another AND Indian nationalists doxxing my family rather than a fellow American?

I don't think these losers understand how I react to this abuse. I react in the way the Duke of Kent would react to the caterwauling of a street heckler. I don't seek a duel; I'm simply entertained by the stupidity. My wife tells me I enjoy these plebeian tantrums way too much.

How about commenting on this festival? It seems like the future belongs to the poop-throwers.

Here's a bar chart showing the median household income by major racial and ethnic groups in the United States for 2024 (in 2024 dollars), based on the latest U.S. Census Bureau data.

He's Indian and uses the same copes as all other Indians. Every single Indian living in a western country thinks this same shit. It's been a constant mask off moment since the H1B thing in December 2024. Everyone can see who they are.

WHY HAVE WE NOT DEPORTED THEM YET?
