NEW: Police seize nearly 80 dirt-bikes and ATVs after trapping dozens of teens during an illegal street takeover on a California bridge (HELICOPTER FOOTAGE)

Video shows riders trying to push through traffic to get out, before realizing every exit was blocked

Most of them ended up abandoning their bikes and running on foot

Nine people were arrested, including one who tried to hide in the water. Police also recovered two firearms and impounded several vehicles used in the takeover

Don't worry, they will just go into the suburbs and "borrow" more.

Hopefully after seizing the vehicles, they can return the stolen merchandise back to the original owners out in the suburbs. Give the offenders 6 strikes of the cane each, and 8 months hard labor. They won't do it again.

Street takeovers can interfere with the vital work of first responders and endanger lives. There are many reasons that more enforcement is needed, but this one single reason should suffice.
