Those children born of past-vaccination mothers, despite never having been vaccinated themselves, and despite never having had Covid...

are dying now at 77% excess - a 24 sigma event.

This inflection is substantiated by the CDC/NCHS's own data/publication.

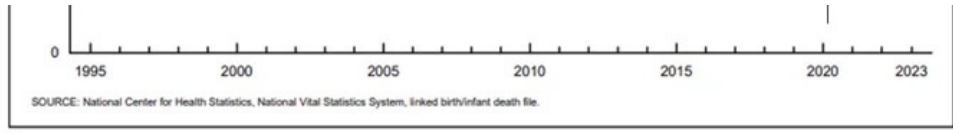

Thanks to a clueless Community Noter who did not actually look at their 'refuting' data. Unprecedented increase over 30 year horizon.

By the way 'Infant mortality' is only the first year. That might have been helpful for the CN'er to know as well. 🤔

I recall you walking through the pull-forward effect and other data elements on a blog post once. Can you share that again?

It is a very common request, so I went ahead and incorporated it (along with my procedures and corroborations) into my main weekly article boilerplate.

Are you able to shed more light on the main causes of death for these 0 - 4 year olds? What are the death codes that are appearing most often?

ES, is this for Women who were vaccinated during pregnancy or all women, including those jabbed well before conception?

I'm worried the answer is the later 😞

It is primarily the latter.

What if the mother took only the original 2 shot mRNA back in 2020 and didn't become pregnant until 2 years later?

Is there any evidence or even just a gut sense that the additional risk is minimal?

This is not a hypothetical.

The data suggests that the impact on newborns happens even in the case where the vaccine was administered well before the pregnancy.

There are two weaker summer periods in 2023 and 24 - and I am hoping that manifests into a regression to the trend at some point. But this winter, was disappointing.

Predictable for depopulation. Can't directly kill humans. They find out. They revolt.
Depopulation through attrition and non-replacement... and the humans will hardly notice. Distract them well enough and they'll never know.
